Your brain commands: lead magnet

Type these into your Rainmaker chat (Grok Bot, or wherever your Rainmaker ICON brain is connected). It asks one question at a time: answer it, and it moves to the next step. Stay in the same chat for all five steps.

If your Rainmaker gives you a long answer instead of one question, start again with: "Hey Rainmaker, build my lead magnet with me one step at a time. Ask me one question, then wait."

1

BRAINSTORM

"Hey Rainmaker, help me brainstorm my lead magnet"

Your red pains in your ICP's own words, 5–7 lead magnet ideas, and a pick. Fewer than 5 interviews? It's a hypothesis v1 (a first version you test); build it anyway. No clients yet? It builds from what you already know how to do. Have your poll results or interview notes ready.

2

TITLES FIRST

"Hey Rainmaker, write my lead magnet titles"

5–10 titles: number + outcome + time + who. Each scored: would they stop scrolling? Pay $50? Forward it? You lock one title before any content.

3

BUILD

"Hey Rainmaker, build my lead magnet"

It asks for your locked title first (new chat? paste it). Then you pick the type (checklist, scorecard, swipe file, mini guide, cheat sheet, or the invisible version) → outline → v1 → LinkedIn-ready: phone-friendly layout, cover line, Featured title + description. Then post "v1 ✓" + your title in the chat.

4

OFFER IT

"Hey Rainmaker, write my lead magnet offer"

A comment-word post ("Comment WORD and I'll send it"), a short email, and two-line DMs for poll voters, interviewees, new accepts and warm connections. Ask first, never attach in the first message.

5

SOMEONE SAID YES

"Hey Rainmaker, someone said yes to my lead magnet"

Rainmaker: helped over 5,000 entrepreneurs, launched over 10 technology products

AI drafts. I approve.

Outreach and community replies. Nothing goes out until I say so.

Sage: it learns what you know.
